Back to the well: 'Magnum P.I.' returns to television with CBS reboot

By Kenneth Andeel

TV Media

Name the most famous mustache to ever grace a TV screen. You have 10 seconds to deduce the answer, and should you fail, a shadowy cabal of drug-dealing, bank-robbing, helicopter-hijacking racketeers will forever escape justice, in possession of a priceless crystal figurine and a dossier of fantastically important government secrets.

With stakes so high, I'm confident that you'll provide the correct information without breaking a sweat and declare that the single, indisputable answer is that of Thomas Sullivan Magnum, the now-iconic namesake of the 1980s hit, "Magnum, P.I." This fall, CBS is counting on the enduring recognition of that iconic character when it reboots the classic series with Jay Hernandez ("Suicide Squad," 2016) as the inheritor of the Magnum mojo. Catch the premiere when it airs Monday, Sept. 24, on CBS.

Hernandez is backed up by Welsh actress Perdita Weeks ("Ready Player One," 2018) in the role of Higgins, the straight woman to Magnum's wild card, and fellow Americans Zachary Knighton ("Happy Endings") and Stephen Hill ("Boardwalk Empire") as Rick and TC, close friends of Magnum's from his military past.

The pilot for the new series was greenlit in February of this year, and a polished trailer for the show was dropped in May. The person behind the controls is Peter M. Lenkov, a self-professed fan of the '80s "Magnum" and a writer/producer on CBS's first Hawaiian crime-fest reboot, "Hawaii Five-0." Lenkov's secret weapon for the pilot was director Justin Lin. Lin is best known for thrilling audiences with his dynamic and outrageous action sequences in the immensely popular Fast and the Furious franchise, and his skill at creating high-energy setpieces is bringing Magnum back with a bang.

The original "Magnum, P.I." first aired in 1980, but for many critics and fans, the show holds up in significant ways. It still receives praise for being an early depiction of a Vietnam War veteran character, and the charisma of its star, Tom Selleck ("Blue Bloods"), has cemented the titular character as a memorable part of TV history.

The modern sensibilities of figureheads such as Lin and Lenkov heavily inform the reboot, and the differences between the old "Magnum, P.I." and the new "Magnum P.I." go well beyond that missing comma. For starters, the mustache is MIA. The first teaser photo of Hernandez in his new role made it clear that the show wasn't interested in being a 1:1 remake of its predecessor and was willing to take big, potentially clumsy risks that could attract the ire of diehard Magnum-heads.

Magnum's second most essential possession (after the mustache) was his red Ferrari, and it turns out that that ride wasn't so sacred, either. The Ferrari appears in the trailer for the show, but after a good-natured meta taunt, the trailer sends the poor vehicle to explode into smithereens at the wrong end of a speeding, multi-ton transport truck. And then the pulverized pieces fall off a cliff. So much for tradition.

These sorts of changes seem like a declaration of intent and a statement that the show isn't interested in superficial fan service. Beyond these examples, however, are other alterations that seem to come from a more thoughtful place. The original Thomas Magnum was something of a boilerplate avatar of American heroism — the strapping, broad-chested former quarterback that audiences would have recognized from countless other stories. Hernandez earned the role in a culture that has made strides in offering a variety of representation. The Mexican-American actor would have probably been relegated to supporting character status in the original series, but in 2018, a major network is happy to have him as the lead.

The casting of Weeks in the role of Juliet Higgins was a deliberate decision meant to erode some of the "Boys' Club" atmosphere of the original series, in which Higgins was a male character. Some commentators have expressed concern that the grudging friendship between Higgins and Magnum — a big part of the original show's charm — might be replaced by an overused dependence on sexual tension in the new formula. That will ultimately come down to the skill and restraint of the writing staff, however, and there's no inherent reason the new dynamic can't be as engrossing as its prototype was.

There will be other notable cameos, though. Supporting characters from "Hawaii Five-0" will pop up during the first two episodes of "Magnum P.I.," and more involved crossovers featuring lead characters will occur later in the season. Hawaii's not that big, so it's perfectly logical that all of these tropical crime-fighters would find their paths crossing.

The initial announcement and gradual reveal of the "Magnum P.I." reboot has drawn mixed reactions. and a fair amount of skepticism, but perhaps the increased scrutiny will lead to more interested eyeballs when the series debuts. The network is hoping that the recent success of other rebooted properties across the television world (including its own "Hawaii Five-0") bode well for the latest example of this trend. This fall will give us an idea as to whether "Magnum P.I." can recapture some of the lasting pop culture penetration and abiding critical acclaim of the original, or if it will end up swept out to sea. Catch the premiere on Monday, Sept. 24, on CBS.

NCIS: Los Angeles WBTW 13 8:00 p.m.

When a highly skilled assailant sets out to avenge her father's death by murdering a Brazilian diplomat, the NCIS team races to stop her in this rebroadcast. Chris O'Donnell and LL Cool J lead the cast of this action-packed drama.

House Hunters Renovation HGTV 10:00 p.m.

When renovation expenses pile up, a Los Angeles couple find themselves swimming in the red in this new episode. As tension rises, the couple struggles to stay afloat by tackling a number of projects by themselves.

Andrea Bordeaux in "NCIS: Los Angeles"

Dancing With the Stars

WTVD 1 WPDE 5 8:00 p.m.

A new roster of celebrities pair up with professional ballroom dancers as the fun kicks off in this season premiere. The returning pro dancers include Witney Carson, Cheryl Burke, Valentin Chmerkovskiy, and defending champion Jenna Johnson.

Magnum P.I.

wвтw 13 9:00 р.m.

Former Navy SEAL Thomas Magnum (Jay Hernandez) works as a private investigator and security consultant in the premiere of this modern take on the classic television series. The cast also includes Perdita Weeks as Juliet Higgins.

"Dancing With the Stars" pro dancer Witney Carson

Manifest

WRAL 6 WECT 6 10:00 p.m.

When the passengers and crew onboard Montego Air Flight 828 land safely after experiencing a rocky flight, they're shocked to learn that five years have passed in this premiere. Some of the passengers believe they may be meant for something greater.

Lodge 49

амс 10:15 р.т.

Dud (Wyatt Russell) and Ernie (Brent Jennings) join Captain on a journey into the night in this new episode. At the same time, Liz (Sonya Cassidy) tries to climb the corporate ladder. Eric Allan Kramer and David Pasquesi also star.

OutDaughtered

TLC 8:00 p.m.

It's time to celebrate with a joint birthday party in this new episode. Danielle also plans individual birthday adventures for the kids. Adam finds himself in an awkward spot when his job may prevent him from attending the event.

This Is Us

WRAL 6 WECT 6 9:00 p.m.

The Pearsons return to prime time in this season premiere. Set in both the 1980s and present day, the hit drama weaves back and forth through time as it tells the story of Jack (Milo Ventimiglia) and Rebecca (Mandy Moore) and their three kids.

Mandy Moore in "This Is Us"

Flipping Out BRAVO 10:00 p.m.

Jeff and Gage are more than a little nervous when Monroe takes her first trip in this new episode. Jeff charters a private plane to bring everyone to New York where he and his team search for real estate for a client.

Mayans M.C.

FX 10:00 p.m.

The Mayans face new obstacles and new opportunities when a new threat surfaces in Santo Padre in this new episode. This spinoff of the hit series "Sons of Anarchy" follows EZ Reyes (JD Pardo), a prospect in the Mayans M.C.

Chicago Med

WRAL (5) WECT (6) 8:00 p.m.

Former Navy flight surgeon Dr. Ethan Choi (Brian Tee) works in Chicago's busiest ER alongside attending physician Dr. Will Halstead (Nick Gehlfuss) in this season premiere. The medical drama also stars Oliver Platt and S. Epatha Merkerson.

Treehouse Masters: Branched Out ANPL 9:00 p.m.

Humans aren't the only ones who appreciate hanging out in a cool treehouse. In this new episode, Pete and his team create a couple of treehouses that are accessible to everyone in the family, including the

Brian Tee in "Chicago Med"

Big Food Truck Tip

FOOD 10:00 p.m.

Cameras tag along as host Andrew Zimmern attends a food truck rally in Huntington Beach, California, in this new episode. There, he meets a couple of college buddies who left their corporate jobs in New York City to open a Chinese-inspired truck.

BoJack Horseman сомс 10:30 р.т.

In an alternate reality where humans live side by side with anthropomorphic animals, washed-up horse actor BoJack hopes to make a comeback in the premiere of this animated series. The show features the voices of Will Arnett, Alison Brie and Aaron Paul.

The Good Place

WRAL (5) WECT (6) 8:00 p.m.

Eleanor Shellstrop (Kristen Bell) seeks redemption in the season premiere of this unique comedy. After dying, Eleanor was accidentally sent to The Good Place, instead of The Bad Place, which is definitely where she belongs.

Bite Club

FOOD 9:00 p.m.

Tyler Florence and his crew travel to Milwaukee to bring together five of the city's best chefs in this new episode. They compete in a classic French restaurant, where the finalists will have to prepare wild boar to earn the "Bite Club" title.

Faith Ford stars in "Murphy Brown"

Murphy Brown

wвтw 13 9:30 р.т.

Candice Bergen reprises her Emmy-winning role in the return of this comedy. Determined to return to the airwaves, she recruits her old team: Corky Sherwood (Faith Ford), Frank Fontana (Joe Regalbuto) and Miles Silverberg (Grant Shaud).

How to Get Away With Murder WTVD 1 WPDE 1 10:00 p.m.

Annalise Keating (Viola Davis) and her associates return in the season premiere of this award-winning drama. This season, a new mystery involving one of their own unfolds and new secrets are exposed. The cast also includes Billy Brown and Aja Naomi King.
